To Whom it May Concern,

Center Stage Theatre is Goldsboro's longest running non-profit community theatre group, and we have come a long way in the last few years. We are very proud to be celebrating our 46th season and have many great things in store.

We are so excited to return to the Paramount Theatre with a cult classic, The Little Shop of Horrors. Things seem fine at the flower shop, if a little hum drum. Then, suddenly, Seymour finds a strange and interesting new plant. But is it really what it seems? Then, this Christmas, join us for a favorite of ours and yours, A Christmas Carol. This classic story will surely get you in the mood for the holidays. In February, things take a turn in the gripping drama, One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest at Wayne County's beautiful museum. To finish the season, the gang's all here with Happy Days: A New Musical. Al's is in danger of going out of business. Can Fonzi, Richie and the gang come up with a plan to save their beloved diner? We are so pleased to bring you this amazing lineup of shows!

The ability to expand our offerings each season can be attributed to the fantastic volunteer members of CST and to people like you. Generous donations from the Wayne County communities have kept CST alive. Every donation helps and goes straight into our productions. In one production, ads were seen by 1100 people this season. This is a great opportunity to bring awareness to your business or organization. CST is a 501(c)3 non-profit group, so donations are tax deductible, and you can be sure your money is being put to good use. All CST actors, directors, crew members and board members are volunteers, and we all do this for a love of theater and a wish to provide quality entertainment to Wayne County and beyond.

Attached to this letter are details on our sponsorship levels and the benefits. Please consider becoming a sponsor of Center Stage Theatre, and help support your local community theatre.

Thank you,

Sandra Evans
2023-2024 CST President
